

Small Groups at Trinity URC

We live in an age when community has often become fragmented, leaving people feeling disconnected or isolated. Here at Trinity, we want to build a sense of community where all are valued and supported, and feel that meeting together in smaller groups is a key way to do this. We currently run a variety of groups, helping people to get to know each other better, share interests and grow as individuals and as a community. Each group has a practical, spiritual, or social focus (or combination of all three!)

Below are Trinity's Groups (at the moment) with a short description and a name to contact for each group. We would love you to explore and try out any group that interests you. We are planning to form additional groups, which we hope to start when we have enough expressed interest. One new venture is our new mid-week weekly café. May our coming together in these different ways bring encouragement and blessing.
